

ROLE: JUNIOR RESEARCHER

We are seeking a Jr. Security Researcher to collect and compile online data regarding crime, terrorism, and political issues for Iraq and other countries of interest. This requires a thorough and timely examination of key media sources and precise categorization of media issues according to the Aldebaran methodology. The candidate must also learn about and understand the political and social context as it relates to the information that he/she collects.

The ideal candidate must have the following qualifications:

- Excellent English skills
- Good organization skills
- The ability to work diligently with minimal supervision
- An interest in international relations and international politics
- Residing in the Philippines

Preferred qualifications include:

- A background in journalism, international relations, political science, or related fields

Who We Are:

Aldebaran Threat Consultants (ATC) specializes in security reporting, risk analysis, and bespoke consultancy services for organizations operating in medium- and high-risk environments in the Middle East and Africa.

ATC's fully integrated suite of services brings together the expertise and local knowledge of our country specialists with the unparalleled granularity of information and the data analysis tools available on the Aldebaran Platform.

In countries where business opportunities and security trends go hand in hand, our holistic approach to risk analysis supports the decision-making of security teams and commercial units via critical forecasting and 24/7 situational awareness. Our tools and services enable data-driven operational planning and security risk mitigation.

The Role:

We are looking for a detail-oriented and motivated Junior Researcher to join our team. In this role, you will monitor and analyse various information sources for security-related incidents and political developments, ensuring accurate, timely, and well-structured reporting.

Key Responsibilities:

- Monitor news, social media, and other information sources for relevant security incidents and political events
- Clearly and concisely present findings in English, following company guidelines and training
- Accurately classify incidents using the company's established methodology
- Map incidents geographically based on available information
- Ensure timely posting of information within set deadlines

Ideal Candidate:

- Excellent command of English, both written and verbal
- Strong organizational skills and attention to detail
- The ability to work independently and manage time effectively
- A genuine interest in international relations and global political developments
- Current residence in the Philippines

Preferred Qualifications:

- Educational background in Journalism, International Relations, Political Science, or a related field

Why Join Us?

At ATC, we offer the following environment and benefits:

- A diverse and supportive company culture that values respect and celebrates achievements.
- Opportunities for career development and learning through training and certifications.
- Comprehensive medical and wellness care package.
- Paid time off amounting to 30 days paid annual leave and 10 days paid sick leave.
- Fully remote working environment, with occasional travel to meet with clients and the rest of the Aldebaran team.
- Opportunity to travel to countries of coverage and to countries with Aldebaran employee presence.

This position is designed for remote work, but occasional travel for meetings with the team is required.

Interested candidates should submit their application by emailing their CV and cover letter to:
